Such a tendency to grasp at any newspaper yarn to make a point, is not scientific, and should not be encouraged. Life Insurance Examiners.--The annual meeting at Boston of the American Association of Life Insurance Examining Surgeons was a very interesting one, and especially so because of the discussion that has been going on in medical circles during the past year, as to the proposed reduction in fees for this work. Among the officers for the past year was Dr. Henry Wells Dewey, of Taeoma, who was president, and Dr. Wm. F. Amos, of Portland, who was vice-president. American Medical Editors Association.--The American Medical Editors Association was organized thirty-seven years ago. Dr. Nathan S. Davis was its first President, and Dr. Henry O. Marcy its first Secretary. Dr. Marcy was at the recent meeting and wittily responded to the toast the ladies at the banquet. The Association is made up of one hundred of the leading independent medical journals of America, including all but one of the American medical weeklies, and all the leading monthlies. The session just closed was the most noted in the history of the organization. Intense loyalty to the American Medical Association was everywhere manifested, and the President found a ready response from the members, when he said, in opening the business...
