Reviews

A whole new eBook with a brand new point of view. It is definitely simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the publication. I am just pleased to explain how this is the greatest ebook i have read during my very own daily life and could be he best ebook for possibly.

Another tax, payable, like the embole, in corn, and collected by the sitologoi, was the annona. Details as to this tax are rare; but it appears probable that it was for the supply of the allowance of corn made to Alexandria, as the embole was for that to Rome and Constantinople/311) 5. In connection with the corn tax should be mentioned the custom by which each year the local authorities supplied to the farmers in their district seed-corn, at the rate of an artaba of corn for each aroua farmed.(312) This corn was repaid after harvest to the granaries, with an addition of two choinikes to the artaba, or onetwenty-fourth, as interest, and a varying. sum for cost of collection. (313) The interest on the loan doubtless went into the common store of the village to assist in meeting the demands for Rome and elsewhere. 6. The sitologoi had to meet a further charge upon the village granaries in the form of certain payments for charitable purposes, which were made in corn; (314) but it does not appear whether the supply for these payments was raised by a special tax, or whether it came from the common property of the village. 7. In place of the corn which was exacted from the farmers whose land was sown for this crop,...
